The esteemed members gave the following suggestions:

Dr. K V Suresha suggested that:

-To clearly mention the number of FDPs to be organized specifically for Teachers, Supporting staff and for the students within this academic year. Such programmes' would be assessed only if they are conducted for 6 working days or above 6 days in coordination with some organizations, governmental institutions or Universities. The Principal replied that the preparations to conduct the same were being made.

Dr. Veena, insisted on the following aspects in tune with the NAAC:

-Specificity of Academic initiatives

-To organize programs based on the program output, whether FDPs, Workshops or any other academic activities and that it can be conducted online also. She further said that FDP on subjects like Research Methodology, Teaching Skills or IPR are preferred and are more significant.

-To motivate the faculty members and students for publication of articles, publications and write ups on various emerging areas of law.

-The method of documentation and presentation to be devised for the speedy completion of the preparation of SSR. Frequent meetings criterion wise to be held, PPTs based on qualitative and quantitative metrics to be prepared by the Criterion head and presented separately so that the overall documentation is accurate and completed on time.

- Joint publications between teachers having Ph.D, and also between teachers and students from the point of view of the NAAC compliance.

- To enhance the Online/Offline Internship Programmes and to document the same effectively.

- To coordinate with the sister institutions and other institutions by way of MOUs to start add on courses, short-term courses and other inter-disciplinary courses from the point of view of the NAAC requirements.

-She pointed out that every day the SSR documentation work must be carried out for at least 1 to 1.1/2 hours for the timely completion of the same.

-She suggested that, the faculty and students make frequent visits to the library in order to upgrade general knowledge and enhance their subject knowledge, which would be very crucial during the NAAC peer visit.

-She appreciated the Mentor System's functioning in a befitting manner and congratulated the college.

Ms. Keerthana Gopal suggested that, the syllabus of BA.LL.B, be refined and to include some of the latest aspects in courses of Sociology, Political Science and Economics.

Mr. Karthik Santhakumar highlighted the opportunities to be made available to the students by way of exposure through awareness programmes, soft skills training and personality building to be conducted at the college before the Final years passed out of the college. He further pointed out that, more and more of practical aspects are included in the UG and PG curriculum for better employability. Mr. Nagendramurthy M P added by saying that, there is 100% placement because of the professionalism and demand for the programs.
